Erection of the eparchy of Adiabene, Hadiab, and appointment of new bishop

The Synod of Bishops of the Church of Antioch of Syria has erected the new eparchy of “Adiabene” (Hadiab) in the region of Iraqi Kurdistan, with territory taken from the archiepharchy of Mosul, Iraq, at the same time transferring Archbishop Nizar Semaan, coadjutor of Mosul of the Syrians, as new bishop of the same eparchy.

Bishop-elect Nizar Semaan was born in Qaraqosh, Iraq on 1 January 1965. After his primary and secondary studies he entered the patriarchal seminary of Charfet, Lebanon where, from 1986 to 1991, he completed his formation with studies at the Université Saint-Esprit in Kaslik, Lebanon.

He was ordained a priest on 1 November 1991 in Qaraqosh for the archiepharchy of Mosul.

From 1991 to 1997 he served as parish vicar, first in Beyrouth and then in Qaraqosh. From 1997 to 2002 he studied at the Pontifical Oriental Institute in Rome, where he obtained a doctorate in the liturgical section of the Faculty of Oriental Ecclesiastical Sciences.

Since 2005 he has been responsible for the Syro-Catholic community in Great Britain.

The Holy Father Francis, on 2 March 2019, granted Pontifical Assent to the canonical election, by the Synod of Syrian Bishops, of His Excellency Nizar Semaan as coadjutor archbishop of Mosul.

Appointment of bishop of eparchy of Bijnor

The Holy Father has given his assent to the election by the Synod of Bishops of the Syro-Malabar Church of the Reverend Vincent Nellaiparambil as bishop of the eparchy of Bijnor.

His Excellency Msgr. Vincent Nellaiparambil was born on 30 May 1971 in Arippalam, and grew up in Thottippal, Mulangue, Trichur. He belongs to Saint John's Forane Church, Parappukkara, Trichur Dt., eparchy of Irinjalakuda. He received the Sacrament of Confirmation on 25 April 1987 and entered the eparchy of Bijnor as a minor seminarian, attending Saint Joseph's Minor Seminary in Kotdwar until 1990. He attended the course in philosophy at Saint Joseph's Regional Seminary, Allahabad (1990-1993). He obtained a degree in art from the University of Allahabad in 1994. He studied theology at the Saint Joseph Regional Seminary where he was awarded a bachelor's degree in theology in 1999.

He was ordained a priest on 8 April 1999, and after holding various pastoral offices, obtained a Master of Arts from the H.N. Bahuguna University, Srinagar-Garhwal, Uttarakhand in 2005 and a licentiate in systematic theology from the Dharmaram Vidyakshetram, Bangalore, in 2008. He was head priest in two mission stations for six years. From 2008 to 2012 he was rector of the diocesan minor seminary, coordinator of formation of the eparchy of Bijnor and non-resident member of staff of Saint Joseph's Regional Seminary in Allahabad since 2008, and resident member from 2012 to 2017.

He is currently head priest of the Mary Matha Mission Station in Chiniyalisaur, Uttarkashi District, Uttarakhand. Aside from Malayalam, he speaks Hindi, English and German.
